

Theatrical arts in Vietnam is very diverse and rich, imbued with national cultural identity. In particular, a number of traditional theater genres has been recognized and honored by UNESCO as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity. So far, many generations of Vietnamese theater artists have worked hard to hand down, preserve and promote the quintessence of the national cultures. Despite many changes, the traditional Vietnamese theater still has strong vitality and maintained until today.

Today's generation of Vietnamese theater artists will promote and creatively develop the unique artistic value of the national traditional theater, to make it an indispensable cultural value in the life and spirit of the Vietnamese people. At the same time they will introduce to international friends programs and plays imbued with the Vietnamese stage arts identity and the breath of the time, contributing to the development of the World Stage arts.
